Oliver J. Foss received an interesting letter Monday from Francis O'Brien in France, giving the news of his training course which resulted in receiving a commission as Second Lieutenant in Co. D 103 Infantry. No location is mentioned, but his command is living under ground surrounded by every comfort possible under the circumstances. According to his statements, life under the sod is not so bad after all and he states that upon a return to the good old U. S. A. a subterranean home will be his if he should ever decide to build. Lieut. O'Brien enlisted in Co. D 2nd Me. Inf. and served with the company during the Mexico trouble, returning as clerk. Since April he served in the same capacity at Saco, Augusta, Westfield and in Fance until promoted.

Kilonis Won Battle Against Truman

In the main bout at Norway Opera House Wednesday evening, Homer Truman of Norway put up a gamey scrap against John Kilonis of Manchester, N. H., middle weight wrestling champion of New England. Kilonis won both falls in 8 minutes, 45 seconds and 34 minutes, 20 seconds, using a body scissors with wrist lock. Strangle hold was barred by agreement of the principals and the spectators voted against the toe hold. Kilonis weighed 160 and Truman 169 at the ring side.

During the first round Truman played largely on the defensive while Kilonis forced the issue at every point. Truman was unable to coax the champion into his famous body scissors during the opening show as the wily Greek knew every inch of the game. Homer started his advance at the opening of the second round and played strong until the end. Both were fifty-fifty in strength, but the visitor through wider experience and scientific training was the superior wrestler. It is generally conceded that the Norway boy turned a defeat into victory by his ability to remain on the mat even five minutes against this Greek. Kilonis in a farewell speech complimented Truman for his work saying with training and care the Norway boy would make one of the strongest wrestlers in the country.

Between the rounds Kilonis gave an exhibition with the referee, Kid Dionne of Lewiston, showing several Japanese self defence tricks and all the principal holds in the American game including the famous "merry-go-round." Kid Dionne challenged Kid Bolduc, holder of the New England light weight belt for a match to decide the title, either at Lewiston or Norway. Frederick M. Davis of Norway presided at the piano during the evening.

In the preliminary Kid Ledger and Lapham, both of Norway, went one round to a finish. Ledger won in 4 minutes.

The semi-final was won by Lee Kimball of Sweden, who got George Lowe of Norway in two falls, time 6 minutes 30 sec, and 3 minutes. A half nelson and body hold did the trick.

W. Frank Stairs staged the show and gave four hundred sports the best wrestling entertainment seen in town. Kilonis left town Thursday morning for Boston, where he goes after Mike Yokel, the world's middle weight champion, at the Grand Opera House this Thursday evening.

Norway Soldier Witnessed German Kulture

Sergt. Alfred J. Dyer Co. D 103d Infantry, in a recent letter to his wife, Mrs. Marguerite Dyer, Fair street, Norway, mentions the German's destructive retreat through northern France, which was noticeable on every hand. This is the extract.

"We have done our bit in the trenches and I must say we had it easier than I expected. Am in fine health and hope that you and the children are the same. Since we have been in the war zone I have felt sorry for France. It is practically destroyed. I shall hate the Boschers and everything bearing a German name. They have destroyed all the lumber, and woods are shot to pieces. They even destroyed all the orchards in their retreat, by cutting down the fruit trees. We went through quite a few towns, not a house was left standing. They meant destruction wherever they went, cities rased to the ground, roads torn up, cathedrals and churches blown down; in fact, destruction everywhere. It was a sight I will never forget."

Porter Seavey has left Everglades and was seen going down Whitman street last Wednesday morning with a shovel to dig out his modest home on Pearl street. I fear Porter has got here a bit early. He should have remained longer in the sunny south. Pneumonia is a bad actor on birds of early flight.

Mrs. David A. Jordan

Mrs. Louise K. Jordan, wife of David A. Jordan, passed away at her home on Whitman street, Sunday evening at 10 o'clock, following an illness of over two months.

Mrs. Jordan was a native of Albany, born in August, 1848, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Kneeland, who kept the Albany Basin's house, which was a favorite resort during the summer season.

She married D. A. Jordan Feb. 5, 1868, observing their golden anniversary this year. Seven children were born to them, Myrtie, wife of Moses P. Stiles of Portland, Mattie, wife of Stephen B. Cummings of Norway, twin sisters, Annie, wife of Frank H. Beck, Lou Ethelyn, who died in 1886, Carlton, who died in 1900, Gertrude, wife of Dr. James G. Littlefield of South Paris, and Roy who lives at home.

The family came to Norway in the fall of 1884 and later built their home on Whitman street, where they have since resided. For several summers they have spent a part of the time at the old home in Albany.

Mrs. Jordan was a member of the Universalist Church and a constant attendant, ready to do her part in the church activities.

Besides her husband and five children she is survived by two brothers and one sister, Edward R. Kneeland of Norway, F. E. Kneeland of Livermore Falls, and Mrs. Lois Littlefield of Lovell.

The funeral service which was private, was held at her home, Wednesday at 1 p. m., Rev. Chester G. Miller officiating. Her sons-in-law, Stephen B. Cummings, Moses P. Stiles, Frank H. Beck and Dr. James G. Littlefield were the bearers.

Beautiful flowers, which she admired so much, were mute testimonies of the love and respect of relatives and friends of which there were a large circle.

Tap Every Maple

Because of the general shortage of sugar there is a growing demand for new substitutes. This spring will undoubtedly see an unusual demand for maple syrup and the satisfying maple sugar, therefore every man who has trees should do his bit in this line. Prof. Geo. A. Yeaton of Norway, the Agricultural Demonstrator, suggests this thought, "Every gallon of syrup, every pound of maple sugar means so much more white sugar for purposes in which that only can be used. There certainly will be a serious condition during the canning season and we can help this spring by following the slogan, "Tap every maple."

The W. C. T. U. met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mary Smith of Oak avenue. The subject for the meeting was "Union Signal Day." The roll call was responded to by selections on the topic. Readings on "Neal Dow" and "Mrs. L. M. Stevens" were given by Mrs. Mary Smith and Hattie Sawyer.

Assured of Some Gasoline

I got greatly disturbed the other day when Will Leavitt said there was to be no more gasoline in this vicinity. I've got to have at least ten gallons a week to live and get out a paper. Alcohol would do, but then its more than one's life is worth to get that into the state. If you don't believe it ask A. L. F. Pike about it. He has had experience in that line and I take his word for it.

Gasoline in this office is just as necessary as ink as the lead pots must be kept a boiling so Dorothy and Faye can pound out the local copy on the linotypes. If we can't have gasoline we stop and some part of the world stops with us.

I'm happy in saying Mr. Leavitt is mistaken and that only the Gulf Refining Company were to "pull out" in this section and leave us all in the hands of the old, reliable Standard Oil Co. of N. Y.

Al. Walker, their distributing agent a South Paris, says there is no doubt but what he can supply gasoline for all legitimate business purposes in this vicinity.

I now feel easier even though I can ride about the county in the "Iron Monster" as much as I'd like, I'll get on the Norway Advertiser and try and be happy over it.

So much for Leavitt's scare.

Keep Off the Ice

Ed Cummings warns everybody away from the channel in the bog between the saw mill and Crockett's bridge. Water is being drawn to supply the Oxford Electric Co. plant and the ice is unsafe. Persons on snowshoes and skiis have been using the bog and lake for a pleasure ground this winter, but this practise must be given up, it is a dangerous practise from now on.

Evelyn A. Chandler started for Schenectady, N. Y., Thursday morning. A short visit will be made with friends at Portland and New York City before resuming her duties in the General Electric Co. office.

Chickens, dogs and eggs for sale. See intelligence column—pages 8 and 10 this paper.

Charles Cummings, an enterprising young man, finds time after school hours to gain considerable pleasure with fair profit from a flock of one hundred and twenty Rhode Island Reds. At present about fifty eggs per day are being gathered which nets a fair profit. He has eighty incubator chicks hatched Saturday and another coming off soon if all goes well. Last year one hundred pullets cleared $60, but as grain has been scarce this winter, the net profit will fall off somewhat.

Eugene N. Swett entertained the young men's class of the Congregational Sunday School at his home Tuesday evening. Albert C. Parker assistant teacher, was present and entered into the evening's sports with enthusiasm. Games, music and refreshments occupied the time which proved one of their best gatherings this season.

Harold R. Truman, 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Truman, was operated upon for appendicitis at the St. Marie Hospital, Lewiston, Tuesday. The operation was a success and his condition is favorable for rapid recovery. The attack came suddenly and he was taken Monday to Lewiston by his brother Scott for immediate treatment. Harold is a freshman at Norway High.

It has been suggested that the basket ball teams of Paris High and Norway High might get together in the Opera House some evening for an exhibition game. An added attraction should be the girls' teams from Paris and Mexico or others wishing to settle an argument on a neutral floor. This might be given as a benefit for both schools or the net proceeds divided equally with the South Paris Service League and Norway Red Cross Chapter.

Winnifred McKeen has resigned as bookkeeper in the Carroll-Jellerson office on account of ill health and has returned to her home in Lovell.

Norway High School News

During the Chautauqua, Norway High held but one session, thus allowing the pupils to attend the afternoon concerts as well as the evening performances.

Norway High School has entered the Bates Interscholastic Debating League again this year. This League is a triple triangular league composed of the following nine schools of Maine: Bangor High School, Leavitt Institute, Jordan High School, Deering High, Maine Central Institute, Stephens High School, Hebron Academy, Gardiner High School, and Norway.

The above-mentioned schools are grouped in three triangles, designated by A, B, and C respectively. Triangle C consists of Deering High School, Leavitt Institute, and Norway High. Each school has an affirmative and negative team. The negative team goes away, and the affirmative debates at home. The debates all take place the same evening, Friday, March 15. The winners of the three triangles constitute a new triangle which will debate on the third Friday in April in competition for the Bates Trophy Cup.

The personnel of the debating teams for Norway is as follows: Affirmative, Elva Perry, '18, Eleanor Brown, '20, Arthur J. Dscoteau, '19, Thelma J. Grover, '20, alternate. Negative: Roland L. McCormack, '18, Bradlee Willis, '19, Arthur C. Bartlett, '18, Willie Block, '20, alternate.

The question for debate is: Resolved that the state should employ a system of compulsory industrial insurance constitutionality conceded. This year the Norway negative team goes to Leavitt Institute and Deering High School sends her negative team to meet the Norway High affirmative here in Norway.

The debate will take place in the High School Building, Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The judges are Prof. W. H. Coleman and Prof. Robert McDonald of Bates College, and John Matthews of Hebron Academy.

The names of the Deering High School debaters are Raymond Hennigar, Donald Reed and Carroll Enemark. As Deering came very near winning the Cup last year, and Carroll Enemark was selected by the judges as the best individual debater of the nine schools of the League, Norway realizes that she is up against a difficult proposition Friday evening, but she is determined, nevertheless, to do her level best. Everybody is cordially invited to attend the debate in order to encourage Norway High in this particular branch of activity.

Frank H. Noyes writes from St. Augustine, Fla., that his health is improving under the summer conditions. Green peas cucumbers, beans and strawberries are served fresh each day. Frank has a small war garden with beans, peas and potatoes well along to a place where the hoe furnishes splendid exercise. The state fair within forty miles of his town attracted him from his truck garden for one day. Their party enjoyed the trip even with the thermometer 95 degrees in the shade. He expects to leave for Southern Pines about April 1 owing to the increasing heat.

As there are more than a dozen members of the school who are now in the United States service, the school is to have a service flag, and Maford Mann and Lloyd Fletcher were appointed a committee of investigation.

The group of Minnehaha Camp Fire Girls met Tuesday evening for a business meeting at the home of Ethel Thompson, Tucker street, there was a little digression from the usual order of things, it being the birthday of one of the members, Bessie Klain, and those present were invited to the dining room, where a lunch was served. Oxford County Examining Board Notes.

This week a neighboring county reported receiving one questionniere from across the water and considered it a bit of feature news. Several weeks since Oxford County commenced receiving their quota and have to date listed several from Scotland and a goodly number from France.

The following registrants coming under the draft law were inducted into service this week and sent from South Paris Tuesday afternoon to Kelley Field, San Antonio, Texas, for the Aviation Section of the Signal Corps. NOT DUE TO SEX ALONE

Norway Women Have Learned The Cause of Many Mysterious Pains and Aches.

Many women have come to know that sex isn't the reason for all backaches, dizzy headaches and urinary disorders. Men have these troubles, too, and often they come from kidney weakness. To live simply, eat sparingly, take better care of one's self and to use Doan's Kidney Pills, is bound to help bad kidneys get better. There is no other remedy so well-recommended by Norway people. Read this case:

Mrs. Myrtie Payne Hazen St., Norway, says: "A few years ago I was having pains across my back and kidneys. They annoyed me very much and on stooping or lifting, I felt them more. I found Doan's Kidney Pills very good for this trouble. As I used them, the pains gradually lessened and soon I as practically free from the trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills are surely worthy of recommendation."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Payne had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Order Monuments Now

War conditions have advanced prices on all monuments, tablets and markers from 20 to 30%. The labor problem at all quarries is such that I can take no orders for designs with any certainty of delivery before Memorial Day. It will be impossible to furnish Italian marble or Scottish granite except from my present stock. There is a shortage coming. I have on hand a large variety of desirabe monuments purchased before the advance and a good unfinished stock including marble and granite of several grades. These can be placed early at reasonable prices as I opened my shop March 1, where I would be pleased to show goods and explain the situation.

PARIS-NORWAY CHAUTAUQUA

The series of six entertainments in Norway Opera House furnished by the Chautauqua Association of Pennsylvania beginning Wednesday evening, March 6, and ending Friday evening, March 8, gave general satisfaction. The attendance was large after the first program, but the advance sale of course tickets fell short of the 250 needed, this deficiency was made good by the forty-six guarantors.

Peter Mac Queen, the war correspondent, in an illustrated "The European War," the Columbia Male Quartet and Superintendent W. Russell Green were the headliners for the first day. Victoria Lesley, supervisor of play, took the Juniors in hand, teaching folk songs and games.

Thursday afternoon W. Russell Green delivered an address "The State and the Child" with Beatrice Stuart Weller Company in vaudeville and novelty acts. In the evening the Weller Company furnished a splendid entertainment with Helen Carney, violinist, Aloysius Engelhardt, baritone and Beatrice Weller, artist and chalk talker in music and cartoons. This trio is a group of entertainers well qualified to meet demands from the most critical audiences. The musical numbers were very fine but Miss Weller with her rapid crayon sketches was a great favorite. Witty conversation of the monologue type accompanied the skillful hand that traced with speed line drawing and colored landscape. Visualizing poems on the easel in sketches which unfolded as the reading progressed, was enthusiastically received. Several humorous drawings illustrating the development from infancy to old age and "How inquisitive James won a harp, wings and crown" were subjects brought out in line sketches.

Capt. Leslie Vickers of the Royal Scotch Fusileers, delivered his famous lecture "Life in the Trenches." He was in America when the war broke out but went across and offered his services, having had miliatry experience in the English army. In a most interesting and modest way the speaker related his journey in the ranks from an orderly blacking boots to his commission at the front. He went through the early days when England could muster not over 146,000 trained soldiers into France to withstand the shock of several million Huns in their sweep onward toward Paris. The first gas attack before the inventation of the mask was launched against his regiment who were unprepared to meet this awful warfare. Liquid fire was first used on the trenches where his company were fighting and its terrible effects described. He saw the Canadian boys make their famous charge without orders, to avenge the cruelties inflicted upon a captured officer. Six thousand from the twelve thousand who went over the top fell in "No Man's Land" but the Hun trenches were captured and not a German prisoner taken. This tribute to the fighting spirit of the regiments from Canada was magnificent and had every evidence to believe "Uncle Same's" boys would follow the lead of their Canadian cousins.

Graphic stories of personal experiences in raids, night scouting and general attacks were related in an unassuming manner, credit for success in every case being given others. Bombing was explained, which method has replaced the bayonet because of its "efficiency." Captain Vickers exhibited a modern hand bomb, the size and shape of a lemon with hollow ends which carry in service a high explosive called T. N. T. This missil is covered with iron spines which do great damage at the explosion. The Yankees have taken kindly to this article and are developing great skill as bomb throwers because of their base ball knowledge acquired early in life.

The Chautauqua closed Friday with a lecture on Y. M. C. A. work in the cantonments, by W. Russell Green, concert and exhibition by the Juniors under Miss Leslie in the afternoon. In the evening the Mordelia Company composed of a violinist, piano accompanist and soloist, and Pietro Modelia with the wonderful piano-accordian rendered a high class program of novelties which were received with great applause.

Pietro Mordelia is the master of this peculiar instrument, an accordian with a piano keyboard for one hand and something like 120 buttons for the other. Seven hundred reeds allow a wide range for chords and harmony which in volumn is equal to the average concert piano or pipe organ. His father constructed the first instrument of its kind in this country some thirty years ago, therefore a talent to become master of it is acquired through heredity and environment, as this artist has lived twenty-five years in a musical atmosphere. An unusual performance was offered when he played a one man duet and trio on the piano, using his hands and both feet to accomplish this musical acrobatic stunt.

Jean Fowler, the popular Chautauqua dramatic reader, gave Booth Tarkington's "The Turmoil," presenting the principal characters in a setting easily followed. Miss Fowler is an artist of ability and can hold an audience spell bound with a rare personality and cultivated talent.

Supt. Green had a contract ready for 1919 if two hundred and fifty tickets could be signed. Very few were willing to subscribe so far in advance for five tickets and the matter of a winter Chautauqua for next season is unsettled. Owing to the fact that the guarantors were forced to purchase four tickets each in order to meet their obligations for this first series, our people failed to warm up to another chance until the future can be foretold with greater certainty. All admit the entertainments were high class and well worth the cost. Unfortunately transportation and sickness in both villages worked against the financial success but the local guarantors cheerfully made up the deficit and many are willing to subscribe again.

The Sophomores of N. H. S. entertained the Seniors at a box supper at the Mothers' Club house at Norway Lake, Friday evening. There were about 30 in the party. Howard Bonnett carried the party on a large two-horse sled. The chaperones were Sub-Master Albert C. Parker, the Misses Marguerite and Marion Lougee and Mrs. Janet Pratt. Soon after their arrival the tables were spread for a box supper, which was followed by games and dancing and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed.

The Dennis Pike Real Estate and Insurance Agency have negotiated the sale of the M. W. Abbott farm in Waterford to Wm. Jacobson & Son of Waterford. They will occupy the premises at once.

WATERFORD

Herbert L. Whitcomb

In the death of Herbert L. Whitcomb, which occured at his home, Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 27, this town loses one of its best known townsmen, and one who was respected by all; the illness which caused his death was of only two weeks duration, being the measles followed by pnuemonia.

F., of which he has been a member for forty years, were present and performed their burial service; also Bear Mountain grange. There were many beautiful floral tributes.

The remains were taken to Pittsfield, N. H., Saturday, March, 2nd, where he was a former resident for eleven years, and placed in the receiving tomb at the Floral Park cemetery where at a later date interment will take place.

There has been introduced in the Massachusetts Legislature, a bill, favored by the State Department of Agriculture, appropriating $200,000 to be expended in agricultural machinery, the same to be divided into ten lots or units and furnished free of charge, or at a nominal rate, with competent attendants and teams, to farmers in ten corresponding districts of the state, for the purpose of speeding up agricultural production at the state expense. It is proposed to buy

Gang Plows	Grain Drills	Rakes
Manure Spreaders	Fertilizer Sowers	Reapers
Disk Harrows	Cultivators	Threshers

LOCAL PICK UPS

There was a time when women bragged. It was about their diamonds, how many Oriental rugs they had, etc. It is different now. Norway women were boasting yesterday. One said: "We have two cords of wood, a ton of coal, and a quarter's worth of sugar." "We have two cupsful of brown sugar," proudly bragged another woman. There was a silence. Nobody could beat that.

If a man misses one copy of his old home newspaper, he cannot resist the temptation of telling a lie to the effect that he hasn't received his paper for weeks.

The telephone rings: "Is this the Advertiser office?" "Yes," is the reply. "Can I have some seeds I see you are advertising to give away?" "Certainly. What is the name and the postoffice please?"

The name and postoffice is given, but so indistinctly as not to be caught and the receiver is hung up. Desperate effort was made to find out, but to no avail.

That lady no doubt is cussing us as women do and telling how mean we are for not sending the seeds.

We are not to blame.

Next call was: "Is the reporter who reported town meeting in?" "No, this is Sanborn talking, what is it please?" "I want to talk with the reporter who reported the town meeting. "What town meeting and who is talking please?"

There was a hesitation and an evident struggle of suppressed rage, and then come back, "No matter who is talking—I'll see him sometime."

I was unable to coax out of the party who he was or where located or his grievance if he had one—which no doubt could have been easily smoothed out if he had been willing to have made himself known. As it is I'm powerless to do anything and he thinks me mean and unreasonable. He probably believes I lied when I said the reporter was out.

These are some of the annoyances of the telephone, but on the whole it is a great convenience and its use is abused only about one-fourth the time by thoughtless or angry people.

I recently waited five minutes by the clock "to get the line" and disturbed a discussion of neighborhood gossip that number of times, which should have been "cut out" on the start, but there is no way to do that. You've simply got to accept it and look pleased or go out of business.

Bro. Evans of the Piscataquis Observer expresses my sentiments better than I can and I reproduce what he said:

"Last week John D. Rockefeller gave $5,000,000 to the Rockefeller Foundation and this week he raised the price of coal oil one and one-half cents per gallon, and yet there are people who pretend to believe Rockefeller a philanthropist. If robbing Peter to pay Paul is philanthropy John is certainly entitled to go to the head of the class.—The Florida Advocate.

It is such items as the foregoing, and the spirit which prompted it, that cause so much friction between what we call capital, represented by the Standard Oil Co., and labor, represented by people of smaller means.

The item shows ignorance as well as envy, for we do not believe that Mr. Rockefeller personally has any more to do with advancing the price of oil than the editor of the Florida Advocate has.

If prejudice is put aside, it must be admitted that the advance in the price of oil has been far less than that of wood, and in fact about everything that we have to buy. And more than that, the oil companies have supplied our needs as many other producers have not.

A good illustration of how wealthy men may be misjudged is shown by the following special dispatch from Tarrytown, N. Y., to the Boston Herald under date of Feb. 1:

'A representative of the county fuel administration "raided" William Rockefeller's estate here today when it was rumored that Mr. Rockefeller had a considerable amount of coal on hand. He found that the financier had been burning wood in his mansion, greenhouses and stables, and that coal was used only to bank the fires at night. He also learned that Mr. Rockefeller has been supplying fuel to 30 families in Archville.'"

Aroostook County in 1916 raised 1200 barrels of wheat. Last year it is credited with raising 20,000 barrels. Piscataquis County raised 30 bushels of wheat in 1916 and last year over 1200 bushels. Who says Maine is not a wheat growing state?

More that a passing notice should be given the "Scrap Book—Poetry of the War" alluded to last week. Mother has concluded to read some of the verses to me if I'll quit showing the book to visitors and talking about it. This of course I've promised. I had to.

The book contains 192 different war poems clipped from current newspapers by Col. M. A. Haynes of Lakeport, N. H., who by the way gave first aid in printing to me 47 years ago. At that time I looked upon him as an old man, but since then he has grown younger and allowed me to pass him in age and infirmities, but not in printing. He manages a 7 x 9 printing press in a kitchen pantry and turns out really good work, principally books and pamphlets of a historic nature.

He sets the type by hand, reads the proof and prints one page at a time on the little press which he operates by pulling a lever. He does not forget to put on the 16 page folio signature mark for the use of the binder. The books are put together in the old fashioned substantial way; hand sewed and string-tied with pasted title on the back.

The expense cuts no figure. The Colonel is well-to-do and well provided for as all retired printers should be after serving three years in the war, four years in Congress and twenty odd years collecting revenue for Uncle Sam. He writes and prints for amusement and pays freight on the delivery of his books to his friends.

Who wouldn't be pleased to get one? Certainly I am and claim the right to be puffed up and annoy my friends in talking about it.

The excuse for compiling and printing this book is set fourth in "Why and How" as follows:

"I set out to make a Scrap Book of the poetry of war. It is an inherited instinct passed along by the good Mother whose delight it was in life to chop up perfectly good papers and magazines and turn out scrap books of every conceivable character, quality, and previous condition of servitude. Somehow, I cannot now visualize her as playing on a harp—or any other instrument—up there among the heavenly host. She would have to take lessons and learn, and I know she would never go to that bother. Still, she had two musical weaknesses over on this side: Whitehouse and Barnaby. If she has run across Whitehouse, over there, it is a good bet that she coaxed him to sing "Forty Years Ago," "Seeing Nellie Home," and other old-time ballads of Long, Long Ago. And when Barnaby passes over, I imagine Caroline's greeting will be something like this: "You have been a long time in getting here, Barnaby; now sing for me 'The Cork Leg,' with 'Three Fishers' for an encore." No harp or brass trumpets in her celestial equipment, but rather a paste-pot and a pair of scissors. I know it is not the orthodox outfit; but I am an iconoclast, anyway—and I know Caroline.

Now I'll trot back to where I started. When I came to paste in my clippings, it suddenly came to me how much nicer book it would make to put the poems into type in the little private printing office that amuses and keeps me out of mischief in my old age. It wouldn't take much more time—and my time isn't worth much, anyway. So at it I went. Then, I might as well make a copy for each of my two girls. Then, while I was about it, why not print a dozen more for the royal families and two or three libraries I am interested in? And so I was led, inch by inch, step by step, to turn out this inflated edition of fifteen copies."

The copy I possess bears this printed inscription:

ON CLOTHING

Clothing prices in the future will be higher. Next fall will see quite a rise in prices. Goods that we have on hand now were contracted for long ago and the prices are based on prices at the time of contract, which are radically lower than prices for next fall or even now. While our present stock lasts prices will remain the same. It is to your profit to buy now for next season. It's true economy. We have a complete stock of winter suits and trousers. Overcoats too make a good saving. Our winter underwear is marked at about wholesale price for next season.

NORWAY MAINE

WE EARN MORE MONEY THAN ANY OTHER NATION.
WE HAVE MORE MONEY INVESTED THAN ANY OTHER NATION.
WE WILL HAVE TO SPEND MORE THAN ANY OTHER NATION TO WIN THE WAR AND PROTECT OUR LIVES AND PROPERTY.

But up to this year we have saved less than any other nation. Our income has been forty billion dollars a year. Our savings have been five billion dollars a year. It is going to cost twenty billion dollars to carry on the war this year. Part of this has already been subscribed in Liberty bonds, part will come from taxes, but by far the largest part must yet be saved.

Cash, Cash, CASH, is what we need. The only way to have it is to work harder and save more. Cash must come before men and munitions. Cash must come before luxury, pleasure, convenience, or even comfort.

Cash is the one big dominant power we must get first to win. And we must win. Let's save our money and put it in the Bank. Let's save four times as much as we have ever saved before. The Banks are rendering a mighty service to the Nation. Without them business would stop tomorrow, pay-rolls would stop, cash would disappear, and every normal habit would be changed.

Don't hoard or hide cash. Cash is never safe until it is in the Bank or safely invested. So Save, Save, SAVE. Put your money in this Bank today and keep on building up, getting interest, growing stronger and preparing for the way to win peace and liberty.

This Bank is a member of the largest banking system in the world, the National Banking System with total resources of $18,553,000,000 00.

WERE THE CHILDREN NAMED?

Fifty-six children born in Brunswick, during 1917 have never been named according to the books of the town clerk. In a recent issue of the Brunswick Recorder the editor calls attention to the fact that the births of only 120 out of 176 children born in 1917 were properly recorded. "In years to come more than one of these 56 children will need a certificate of birth, but unfortunately it will be impossible for the town clerk to furnish it."

Norway gives the names of two-thirds of the children whose births have been recorded the past year. This is better than many of the towns.

Paris does not give the name of a single child born in town the past year, while the big town of Rumford ignores vital statistics altogether. At least their report is silent on the subject.

Brunswick is not alone in the failure of many parents and physicians to attend to the records of birth, says the State Department of Health in its weekly statement. Everywhere the carelessness is evident and must be guarded against. During one year the Philadelphia Bureau of Vital Statistics received daily an average of forty requests for copies of birth certificates, the majority of which could not be granted because the births were never recorded. The birth certificate is of vital importance to the child who may some time be called upon to prove his age. Estates have been forfeited, the right to work at a certain age has been taken away, all proof of citizenship has often been lost because the simple act of recording birth was neglected.

It is important that these records be carefully kept. The law requiring returns should stipulate that the name of the child be returned or no pay be allowed physician or the one making the return. This should be attended to at the next session of the legislature. Who will see to it?

THE THIRD LIBERTY LOAN

The campaign for the Third Liberty Loan will be opened on the 6th of April, the anniversary of the declaration of a state of war between the United States and Germany.

The amount, terms and conditions of the loan are dependent upon further legislation and will be announced as soon as Congress has granted the necessary powers.

Secretary McAdoo chose the 6th of April as the day to open the campaign as the most fitting date to call for a patriotic response to the summons to duty to every American, to ask from the people at home the same fervent patriotism that actuates our gallant sons on the battlefields of France and on the waters of the Atlantic.

BURNED TO DEATH

Two children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gordon of Rumford, aged 8 months and 2 years, died from burns caused by a fire caused by the hook breaking that held the kerosene tank being over the oil stove.

The tank was open and in falling, the oil spread over the stove and ran all over the floor. The hot stove caused the oil to explode and the fire resulting spread so quickly that the children's clothing was soon in flames. These tanks are usually placed at the side of the stove. This was in Coulombe block. Loss on building, $1,000.

Warren N. Tenney, 160 Warren St., Boston, Mass. Mr. Tenney is anxious to know if any of our readers remember the Revival. Rev. Jared Whitman late of Old Orchard, assisted the local pastor, Rev. Mr. Dutton.

March term of Supeme Judicial Court is in session at Paris. W. W. Virgin is judge, A. S. Austin, clerk and Jas. S. Wright county attorney.

Twenty-six Years Ago This Week

A salmon a foot long was caught while fishing through the ice in the lake the other day. This shows that there are salmon there.

O. M. Cummings circulated a paper among the business men and others in the village and raised $111 for Mrs. W. A. Rich and family. It was very kind of Mr. Cummings and shows that our people are generous to the unfortunate.

Gen. G. L. Beal, State Treasurer, and Representative J. A. Roberts were home from Augusta to vote.

Verne M. Whitman has received an appointment on the junior prize debate which is to come off Friday evening of thsi week. The question to be discussed is license against prohibition. Mr. Whitman is one of the three disputants in the negative.

A majority of the voters of this county have accepted the new location of county buildings in South Paris. To be sure it is a narrow margin, but it is sufficient. We will not attempt to conceal our surprise at the smallness of the majority. We firmly believed the new location would have been accepted by a much larger majority and the result plainly shows the effective work done by the friends of the old location. The battle is now over and the Advertiser will return to its field of local news gathering, sincerely believing that the result is for the best good of the whole county and that new and commodious County Buildings, not to exceed $30,000 will soon be built at South Paris.

Twenty-four Years Ago This Week

The vacancy in the Noyes Drug Store caused by the removal of Charles Vallee to Island Pond, is to be filled by W. E. Bosserman, formerly with G. R. Wiley at Bethel, but for some time past employed at Boston. Mr. Vallee is an uncommonly competent man and he will be much missed. His place is indeed a hard one to fill but the proprietors give the best reasons for believing that Mr. Bosserman is the equal of his predecessor and fully qualified for the situation. We congratulate them on obtaining so good a hand.  Mr. Bosserman is now proprietor of a drug store at Bethel.

L. P. Swett, the bicycle man, has returned to his old quarters in Howe's brick block opposite the post-office.

In the window of Henry B. Foster's clothing store is an animal which attracts more than usual notice. It is a young kangaroo and was shot by Ed. Philbrook at Bethel, when the quadruped was only a week old. Its color is tan, and has numerous white spots on the side, and looks as if it was really alive, but it is not, it's stuffed.

Dr. F. N. Barker is building another addition to his house. This time it is on the Danforth street side for the purpose of enlarging his office and the room above it.

Bethel item: The opening of Bethel reading room Monday evening was a success indeed. It would do one good to see the piles of literature spread upon the broad tables and hung on the racks, and the crowds of intelligent young and old people of both sexes. The exercises in the gymnasium room were very interesting. Master of ceremonies Merriam would seem to rise in the air without an effort and perform wonderful feats. The lunch the good ladies had prepared was abundant, with many baskets of fragments left over. The ladies of the W. C. T. U. will have the management of the reading department consequently we may expect a continued success.

The condition of Edmund Everett, who has been severely ill with pneumonia, is more encouraging and a complete recovery expected.

Mrs. Maud Spiller entertained at her home on Beal street, Wednesday afternoon, the third in a series of Cycle teas given by members of Lake Temple thian Sisters. Cummings, Mrs. Susan Wentzel, Mrs. Katherine Grover, Mrs. Daniel Daniels, Mrs. Mary Bicknell, Mrs. Maggie Dyer, Mrs. Linnie Bartlett, Mrs. Gertrude Libby, Mrs. Emma Cullinan, Mrs. Flora Newcomb, Mrs. Mary Kimball, Mrs. Walter Cullinan, Mrs. Evis Cook, Mrs. Nettie Nevers, Mrs. Mary Lewis, Mabel Warren, Mrs. Ida Richardson, Mrs. Rose Banks and the hostess.

ALBANY

There was more wood and timber hauled to Bethel and to the Greenwood brook last week, than has been hauled in any other two weeks before this winter. Some days last week there were about 75 horses on the road.

Lincoln Holmes has got through hauling pulp wood and moved back to Bisbeetown in Waterford.

D. A. Cummings has shipped his apples to New Hampshire that he bought of A. G. Bean. He expects to buy a small lot of Walter Canwell of South Albany this week and pack them and ship them to New Hampshire this week, Thursday, for Thursday is the only day the heated car goes through Bethel. He plans to ship the next lot to J. P. Kimball, who was formerly an Albany boy and the son of Charles Kimball of North Albany, who lived near Songo road.

Harry McNally and son, Chester are still working in the shoe shop at Norway. Jack, his other boy, only 12 years of age, has been hauling pulp wood up to the Greenwood brook near. William Holt's with George Cummings' four steers. George has raised five or six pairs of good matched steers in the last six years and has sold some for good prices.

Guy Johnson and Arthur Andrews are cutting hemlock bolts for box boards down on the Millard Lord farm for Fred Littlefield.

The Churchill Brothers are cutting cord wood for Maitland Bird.

Men in this vicinity are paying all the way from $2.00 to $3.00 per cord for cutting wood. The price depends on the chance to cut. In the fall of 1865, after Seward M. Cummings got through going to school, he took a job of Deacon Jacob Lovejoy to cut cord wood for 75c per cord and board himself. Don't tell about hard times for there was never a time since the Civil war that a man could lay up so much money as at the present time. You could hire a good man for $1.00 per day and he was willing to work 10 hours a day. Nowadays if you hire a man he only wants to work about nine hours and then wants to stop and fill his pipe about four time s a day, so he does well if gets in eight and one-half hours a day of solid work.

H. I. Bean, our storekeeper, is closing out his stock of dry goods, groceries, flour and grain as fast as he can. At the rate it is now going he will not have much left in ten days more.

Dexter A. Cummings and Anna Cummings recently received the sad news of the death of their brother's wife, who died in Detroit, Mich. She had three sons and two daughters who survive. She was formerly from Albany, N. Y., but has lived in Detroit ever since her marriage to Col. Albert M. Edwards, formerly of Albany, Me. He was a nephew of the late Col. Clark Edwards of Bethel.

Duffey is a graduate of the University of Maine and passed a very credible examination last August, before the State Bar Examiners.

South Paris

Mrs. Lotta Abbott has moved from the Hewett house owned by Oscar E. Barrows to the J. Freeland Penley rent on High street.

South Paris people returning from the Chautauqua at Norway Thursday night, saw the "Thunder Eagle" as it has been called, in the unusual display of Northern lights. This celestial phenomena has caused many peculiar remarks and the superstitious have food for argument along wierd lines. If the blood red streaks and flashes have any connection to the present war conditions, let us also believe the "eagle" is the American specie, and in reality a "dove of peace." Observers lacking the super-imaginative element witnessed only a wonderful natural eletrical display that surpassed anything of its kind seen in years.

Arline D. Crocker who is completing a special course at the Emerson College of Oratory at Boston, is visiting her mother, Mrs. George Davis, for a short time.

Charles Bowker, among others, kindly conveyed a cowd of concert-goers to the Chautauqua at Norway Friday evening. He arranged a good "turnout with warm robes," and all went merrily as the night was ideal for the good old fashioned method of travel.

He was born in Greenwood, Nov. 5, 1840, the son of Laurenson and Lucinda Spofford Cole. When he was four years old his folks moved into Milton Plantation, where he lived most of his life. He was one of the assessors in Milton fifteen years, Plantation clerk ten years. He was a man of sterling character, strictly honest in all his dealings with his neighbors and townsmen.

He leaves a wife to whom he has been married almost fifty years, six children, Will of Andover, Irving of Rumford, Edmund of Milton Plantation, Daphone Rowe of Redding, George of Rumford and Alice Redding of Sumner, 17 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

In his last sickness he has been tenderly cared for by his wife and children. Funeral was Thursday at 1 p. m.

WILSON'S MILLS

As guests of the day Tuesday at E. S. Bennett's, were Mrs. Bertha N. Storey, Cecil Bennett and Mrs. Clinton Bennett.

The first of the week Mrs. Jennie Nason and mother, Mrs. Will Hart, made a trip to Errol on business and report the roads as fine for the season.

SPRING TREATMENT

Necessary to Purify Blood and Correct Weak, Run-Down Conditions.

Trying weather, exposure to storms, the grip, hard colds, pneumonia, fevers, diphtheria and other blood-poisoning, prostrating diseases leave the whole system subnormal—below par—weak and slow—blood depleted and thin, with that tired feeling, poor appetite, backache, rheumatic pains, delicate digestive power or almost none at all. The ideal treatment is

Hood's Sarsaparilla—to be taken before meals—thoroughly to purify the blood and expel poisons, and

Peptiron—to be taken after meals—to put power into the blood, give strength, increase red corpuscles and restore tone, and do it quickly.

If there is biliousness, constipation, bad taste in the mouth, despondency or "the blues," the liver is torpid. Take Hood's Pills—they rouse the liver and relieve all liver ills, and are perfectly compatible with Hood's Sarsaparilla and Peptiron.

Begin this Spring treatment today.

Matrimony and false teeth vie with each other in the want column. Read it. Also a tenement to rent.

SOUTH HARRISON

Ella Harmon Kneeland

This community was shocked and saddened by news of the death of Ella (Harmon) Kneeland, which occurred Mar. 5th, at the home of her brother, Alvin T. Harmon of Westbrook, after a brief illness caused by pneumonia.

She was the only daughter of the late Simeon T. and Abby Harmon, born in Harrison in 1853. Was married to Ira A. Kneeland in 1885. Mr. Kneeland passed away two years ago.

She had been in failing health for several years and the death of her only daughter, Mrs. Winnie Bonney on Dec. 24th had weakened her condition. She was possessed of a cheerful disposition and always had a pleasant word for all. She leaves one son, Harold, who mourns the loss of a kind and loving mother, this with the recent loss of his only sister, makes it especially sad for him. She also leaves a step-son, Connie Kneeland of Gorham and four small grandchildren to whom she had been a most generous and thoughtful grandmother.

Funeral services were held at the Congregational church, Mar. 7th, conducted by Rev. C. N. Davies. The bearers were Fred C. Green, Marshall Pitts, F. Perley Freeman and Seward Barker.

Relatives from out of town were Frank Bonney of Lewiston, Arthur Harmon and John Foye of Westbrook. Floral tributes were as follows:

Pillow, "Mother"—Harold Kneeland.
Basket of Flowers, "Auntie"—Arthur and Jasper Harmon and Grace Foye.
Large floral piece—Harrison Lodge of Rebekahs.

LOVELL

Accepted Call to Cornish

Having accepted a call from the Cornish church to become their pastor, the Rev. George Smith of Lovell will leave our town in early May.

The town will be sorry to lose him at the end of his first year. Despite the large amount of sickness, especially in the village and the unusual winter storms, making it impossible to work on any fixed schedule, much good has been done and four new members added to the church. Mr. Smith has given us a continuous series of good and helpful sermons, attended to the pastoral side of the church's need, given stereoptican lectures, paid many visits to our town schools from time to time, addressing the pupils on timely topics; while the Junior Red Cross movement has also been boomed in the day schools.

Unusual Electrical Display

The Aurora Borealis Thursday evening, March 7, were unusually active and worked up a display not equalled since the brilliant exhibition some twenty-five years ago.

It started in a modest way directly after sunset in the usual order. Green and rose red tinted streamers started on their upward course to the zenith. The solid bank of bluish flame over the northern hills spread east and west until due south had been touched. An unusual phenomena was an electrical arch enclosing the southern constellations. This also started into activity and before midnight the whole heavens were enveloped in this bluish luminous electrical fog, frequently changing in color to pink then through various shades to red. Several times it appeared like reflections from conflagrations along the horizon at every point of the compass. Street lights were not needed as the reflection upon the snow gave every appearance of subdued moonlight.

This exhibition was wide spread as the same phenomena was noted over the United States and Europe. It has been reported a German air raid was made over London that night as the light was sufficient to bring out the targets sought for.

Big Value of Iowa Farm Land

Frank T. True, treasurer of Council Bluffs, Iowa, sends a city paper of March 5th showing real estate transfers. There were 175 such instruments recorded that day; 77 of them represented a value of $1,181,919.56, which is an average of over $15,000.00. Just think of it! Several of the farms are valued over $50,000.00 each, and one at $79,000.00

It looks big to an Easterner where farms represent an inhabited oasis between timber-lots occupied, used and cultivated by the father and handed down to the children as good places to stay. Evendently in Iowa farming is a business or else why is land so valuable? More than a thousand dollars were paid the government that one day.

This sounds big on paper, but I'd prefer to live in Oxford County, Maine, than Pottawattamie County, Iowa.

In a letter Mr. True says: "You may remember that I told you that horse chestnuts were good for rheumatism, when I filled my pocket from the trees at the farm at Meredith Center. I am sure now that they are, for I have carried one of them continuously since then, and for the first time in my life I have been having rheumatic pains. Possibly I should have eaten them instead of wearing out my pockets.

"I am again in the midst of a city campaign, but fortunately without opposition in my own or opposing party."

Frank Stone is on the ragged edge of despair over the smallness of his income tax. He says Van Camps people, where Carl works, pays the government $2,000 per day.

Heler R. Cole of Paris Hill was an over Sunday guest of Tessa R. Thibodeau.

Mrs. Hattie McDonald of Haverhill, Mass., and Millie Cole of Waltham, the guests of Mrs. William C. Cole and Mrs. Ella Jewett Cole, returned to their homes Monday morning.

The Gould Academy basket ball team with Prof. Small remained in town over Sunday, returning to Bethel on the evening train. They appeared greatly pleased with their treatment and enjoyed the trip despite a blizzard which kept them indoors only as they attended church in the forenoon.

Our report last week regarding the Millettville level-land-route was misleading. It was voted to passover the article to a more opportune time and the way was not accepted.

Mrs. Stuart Goodwin leaves Monday for several weeks' visit with her sister, Mrs. J. H. Brooks, at Bridgeport, Conn.

BASKET BALL

Norway High 43, Gould's Acadamy 10

Norway High won the last game on the schedule Saturday evening in Norway Opera House cleaning up Gould Academy with a 43 to 10 score before a good sized crowd.

Little did Parson Gould (for whom the Academy is named) realize a hundred years ago that the young men sheltered under the protective wings of his proposed institution should fritter away their golden moments in frivolous sport. Times have changed and for twenty-five years Gould Academy has been represented in the sporting field with teams noted for clean athletics and fairness. In the game Saturday night the Gould quintet upheld the tradition of their Academy, playing a clean interesting contest, but failed to score heavily as they were out distanced. With a mark 20 to 5 against them, they entered the second period with great courage and played throughout that half with the zest of a winner. Bryant caged three of the five baskets and secured two in three chances from the foul line. Norway fattened their averages in this event and had the aggressive side of the argument during both periods. Only at rare intervals was the ball out of Gould's territory and many lively scrimmages resulted especially during the second half. Goulds made several pretty baskets on long shots but were unfortunate in many close chances as the sphere failed to nose out the ring for points. Norway had the big end on passing which accounted for their ability to score heavily and keep the pill away from their ground. Gould's tackling defence was well executed but failed owing to clever team work of the locals who camouflaged repeatedly and had the visitors guessing.

No unnecessary roughness was in evidence and both teams played a clean cut game, only two fouls being called against Gould and three on Norway.

The Pennesseewassee Mandolin Club furnished music for a social dance which followed. Among the volunteer musicians were Elizabeth Klain, piano; Elizabeth McCreery, F. Marion Lougee, Elinor P. Allen, Arthur Bartlett, mandolins; Marguerite E. Lougee, Alice Bartlett and Roland McCormack, violins; Roger Sloane and Harley True drums.

N. H. S. 2nd 24, Paris High 2nd 23

The second game Saturday evening was well played and developed into a hard working contest before the finish. With the score 12 to 2 in favor of Norway at the end of the first half, Paris dropped Leach as r. g., substituting McGinley, a first string player. With his speed and strength, the visitors scrambled from the basement to a perch near the top. One basket from the foul line within a minute of time decided it against them, Merrill being responsible for this. Thompson played left forward for F. Fletcher, otherwise the regular line up went on for Norway.

The one-sided playing during the first half was more than offset during the second and the locals found opportunity to display their ability in an effort to ward off defeat.

The Ward Eight youngsters whitewashed a Grammar School combination termed the Norway Rovers with a 12 point score in Norway Opera House Saturday evening. Two ten minute periods were played. Those who participated in this event were light weights, many being unable to push the ball within scoring distance. Paul Nevers captured all the honors with 6 baskets for Ward 8.. He made one try at the foul line but missed as did Lapham on the Rovers. The line up follows:

NEWS FROM THE BOYS IN SERVICE

A letter from Enfield W. Plummer, a former Norway boy, written somewhere in France follows. A short time ago we published one of his letters in the Advertiser.

Jan. 25, 1918

Dear Uncle En.:

Although I am addressing my letter to you it is for the benefit of the whole family. We have but little to write or feel like writing in our spare time. We do a good many foolish things that amount to but little. In civil life you groom a pair of horses and are done, but here you stick right at it until they see fit to dismiss you. There are so many things that get my goat each day that I'll have a "Ben Knight" disposition by the time I return. I did drive a swing team on the piece for four or five weeks, but am back on the gun crew now.

I am apt (as are any of us) to be number 1 today, (firing the piece) or a number 4 (screwing in fuses and playing human crane with the trail) the next. I like to work on the piece better as it is more exciting. Our regiment has had good luck so far and I sure hope we continue to do so. This afternoon part of us had pistol drill and part of us gas mask drill. The mask has to be taken from its pouch, adjusted securely and strapped on while you hold your breath. It can be done as quickly as five or six seconds, but I should prefer to make it ten and be sure that it was on O. K. We also have our steel bonnets for pellets to bounce off of. We are in the same camp that we just came to, but are ready to pull out at any time. Twice all ready we were scheduled to leave and then held back.

As far as war news is concerned, you are better informed at home than we are, and if we did know anything we could not write it so there you are.

For anyone that has a craving to see buildings that were old when Boston was a berry patch and people that dress like musical comedians, this Briton atmosphere is just the place to visit. The buildings are all of stone, with slate and even thatched roofs. The little villages look as if one took a bushel basket full of blocks and dumped them down. The little lanes in these villages would make a sober man drunk if he was canvassing from house to house. As we pulled through a village yesterday we saw a horses head, apparently out of a house window, but when opposite it was the linter with several cows tied in also. The living room joined right on and the bed rooms have an antiquated bed, with very inviting spreads on them, which I think must be made up for visitors they've expected for several generations. They get out some great rigouts over here, too. We saw a woman and two boys plowing yesterday with a steer in wheel and a chunky stud on lead. The plow beams in this section are straight and about eight feet long with a wooden wheel to follow in the furrow. They do not turn over near as deep nor near as wide a furrow as one of our plows would either. They leave a dead furrow every little way and another on level pieces running crosswise to give them drainage. It rains here a good part of the fall and winter so the land gets saturated. They have a drying wind that helps almightily when it blows. We've waded in their mud enough to cuss it both ways and turn it to gravel, if words counted for anything. Manure is slapped on heavily (by husky damsels) and the land is all "dung sick." We see little of that at home, mostly the reverse, but you know this is the oldest part of France and that means centuries old. I told you they were plowing and even seeding down pieces yesterday, which may sound "fishy," but it is, nevertheless true. Along all of the streams and in the washing pools, women were "spatting out clothes as though it were July. Lately the weather has been identical to our weather of this time in April and even May.

Most all of the grass lots are green and it seems like living. The mud is the only thing that makes the place disagreeable. They raise many apples through all of France that I have so far been through, although they take no care of their trees. The trees are set out in fairly good system and the land between, tilled. To look out over the hills and valleys the landscape is one by checkerboard marked off by hedges. The natives are very conserving of their fire wood and line the lanes with oaks, trimming off the sprouts annually. At night they look like a column of Roman pillars.

Yesterday we passed (I mean haulted while they passed), a funeral with a cross bearer leading, the priest next, then the body and pall bearers, mourners and one old lady carrying a new pair of wooden shoes. Everybody was on foot, the pall bearers were women. It was the queerest procession I ever dreamt of witnessing.

As I spoke of apple trees you must know that cider is as water here. Also wines, cordials, champagne and almost every conceivable drink ever invented. They have a liquid dynamite called cognac that turns a temperate man into a d. t. patient in three applications. If Aunt Abbie tried that she'd shake her rheumatism pronto. The Vin Blanc and Vin Rouge were all right, but I got sick of it. In fact I drink little of anything now, but perhaps a little Porto, which will not do any harm to anyone. Even our total abstainers sip their Porto with their meals. I like to eat at the little cafes once in a while for a change. Do not think that because I mention all of these drinks that I try them all, because the towns near camp are not allowed to sell them any more (except wines and Porto), and I have not much use for them. In fact after the newness wore off the boys let it alone of their own account.

I hear that Wendall has shot two deer and you another pair I wish I might bury my face into a big venison steak right now myself. There is nothing I like better I guess. Our Colonel has shot two wild boars in a forest near here. I guess on a private estate.

There are several immense estates near here, some with fairly modern chateaus, modeled after old architectures and others in a state of ruin, centuries old. We are seeing what tourists spend big stakes to see when they travel all over Europe.

On our way here we passed through England, saw the coast of Ireland, (sailed within a quarter mile for several hours) and crossed the English channel. We landed in ——— and crossed England to ——— in the eight passenger coaches. Over here we had the pleasure of touring around in horse cars. Its a great life if you don't weaken. Well the fellows tell me I must be writing a book so will ring off. I want to thank you very much for remembering me on Christmas. Give my love to all and tell them to write me.

With love to all,

Enfield.

Sergt. Whitehead's Experiences in Africa

Sergt. Alton E. Whitehead of Paris and Norway, with the British Expeditionary Forces in France has written an interesting and touching letter dated Jan. 10, to the Service League at South Paris for gifts received. He served in Co. D 2nd Me., working from the ranks to captain. At the outbreak across the seas, he resigned his command and enlisted with the Canadian forces, then was transferred to England. Remaining there several months, he was sent into the African campaign full of hardship and physical suffering. The following extracts will give a faint idea of soldiering in that land under torrid conditions.

"Two years ago we marched out into the desert considerably over one hundred miles from a place called Kisagua to repel an invading German force that were attempting to reach a certain place on the Uganda Railway not more than a hundred and some odd miles from Mombasa in British East Africa, in order to blow up an important bridge, the destruction of which would have greatly delayed the arrival of General Smuts and his force of Boers.

"We repelled them with heavy losses. We very nearly died of thirst though, as a thousand native water carriers that were sent out to us laden with the precious fluid were lost for three days. For 8 months' period ending October 1st, 1916, we had marched and daily fought rear guard actions over a distance of twelve hundred miles.

"Our first big fight in East Africa took place at Bukoba, a German port on the western shore of Lake Victoria Nyanza. We made a naval expedition against the place, which was the seat of a large wireless station. Our expedition was completely successful, though we had to undergo severe hardships. For instance we had to advance under fire through a swamp up to our chins in water, etc.

"I am now of little value as a soldier, a candidate for the army scrap heap, badly worn, but not yet broken."

"A year ago I was in a South African hospital an emaciated wreck, suffering from recurrant malarial fever and malnutrition. I was there for a period of about three months. I had arrived there straight from the jungle by the Rufigi river in German East Africa. The strength of my company when I left was four men, only one a private soldier. Its normal strength was nearly three hundred and it had received nearly a like number of re-inforcements."

Undoubtedly letters from friends in Norway and Paris would be most welcome. His address is Sergt. Alton E. Whitehead, No. 406099, 869th Garrison Guard Co., A. P. O. S. 73, B. E. F., France.

A Worthy and Patriotic Citizen

This is the story: A thrifty man outside the village got two barrels of flour of C. B. Cummings Sons Co. a few days before the embargo act came into effect. He took it home only to bring it back to the mill on his next trip to town, saying:

"Here is your flour, I don't want it, I feel guilty with two barrels of flour in my house when my neighbors haven't any and can't get any unless it's mixed with hen-feed. You may doctor me up 50 pounds or so and I'll take it back home with me and then I can look my neighbors in the face and feel I'm trying to do something to win the war."

I'd really like to know if this story is true. If it is, I'll take my hat off to that man and I know Mother will divide her sugar with his family.

Proof that Some Women do Avoid Operations

Mrs. Etta Dorion, of Ogdensburg, Wis., says:

"I suffered from female troubles which caused piercing pains like a knife through my back and side. I finally lost all my strength so I had to go to bed. The doctor advised an operation but I would not listen to it. I thought of what I had read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and tried it. The first bottle brought great relief and six bottles have entirely cured me. All women who have female trouble of any kind should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

How Mrs. Boyd Avoided an Operation.

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well.

"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. MARIE BOYD, 1421 5th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

Farewell Party

Tuesday evening a large number of young ladies gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Titus, the occasion being in honor of Lydia Ross, who has been employed in Mr. Titus' family and is soon to finish work there. Games and stunts of many kinds were enjoyed, also a treat of corn balls. They presented Miss Ross with a lovely white toilet set, which shows the high esteem in which her many friends hold her.

Birthday Party

Recently Mrs. Elizabeth Meader gave a birthday party in honor of her little seven year old granddaughter, Lydia Cummings, who is stopping with her while her mother is in the hospital. From 3 to 5 the little girls enjoyed playing games, then they were shown into the dining room where a lunch was spread consisting of sandwiches, saltines, assorted cookies, birthday cake, candies, apples, bananas and hot chocolate. Miss Lydia was the recipient of many pretty and useful gifts.

The net proceeds were over thirty-three dollars. The time was very brief for the arrangement of the affair, but all took hold zealously and made it a success. With fifteen people in the play and only one rehearsal this was going some.

On Friday of this week a branch of the order of the Red Cross is to be organized in a gathering of the citizens at the Grange Hall. Mrs. Hugh Penlexter of the Norway Chapter will be present to assist. There is an interest here in the work that should not go unnoticed, for the ladies have accomplished a wonderful amount in this line for the year past.

Jesse W. Pierce

Jesse W. Pierce died at his late home last Saturday evening, March 9, of pneumonia with heart complications.

Mr. Pierce was born August 7, 1865. He married Emma Day of Wesley, who survives him. Their children are four sons and one daughter, Milton, who is married and lives with his uncle in Waterboro; Floreston and Elwood who live here in the home and the twins, Zelia and Zinia, who are working in Ashland, Mass. He also leaves one brother, Willis Pirece of Waterboro and Mrs. Mary Kimball of Biddeford.

Saturday morning it was feared that he could not live and a telephone message was sent to his sister and son Milton who started on the first train, arriving here in the evening, a few hours before his death.

The funeral was held at the M. E. church Monday at 2 p. m. Rev. L. W. Grundy officiated. Milton and Floreston accompanied the remains to the cemetery in Limerick Tuesday, where the family came from.

Milton came here first to work for the Paris Mfg. Co. about four years ago. He got a job for his next brother, Floreston and he came. They boarded for a time, but being tired of that, they thought they could do light housekeeping and board themselves, so bought out O. J. Swan's outfit and rent over the meat shop about two years ago. A few months later their mother came to visit them and help them out for a while. Then one by one the other brothers came and then Mr. Pierce and when winter came on he made arrangements to leave the care of his farm with someone and decided to stay here through the winter. He liked so well that he has continued here, occasionally returning to his home to care for it. He had recently talked of selling his farm and buying a small place here.

Mr. Pierce experienced religion about two years ago and it so reformed his life that he was very happy in it and although he had not yet become a member of any church, he and his wife attended the Methodist and were always present at all the services when health permitted.

During his short stay here he had made many friends who will sincerely miss him. The wife and family, who are left feel very grateful to these friends and neighbors. He was a member of the K. of P. of Norway, also Uniform Rank K. of P., No. 8, in Portland.
